Baby Bundles

Babies are our most precious and vulnerable community members. The first months and years of life are the most important, especially when it comes to nutrition. Thanks to some help from United Way, the Baby Bundles program helps us to help parents provide a healthy start for their children.

Parents with children under the age of one receive a bundle once per month per child.

The bundles contain a variety of items including: baby food, formula, cereal, baby cookies and juice. They also include supplies such as diapers, baby wipes, shampoo, soap, bottles and clothing. Of course, the contents of the bundles vary depending on the amount of donations received from the community.
